To the Class of 2014...

As you look through the pages of this year's Barnacle, we hope you are reminded of the beauty that surrounds us on Cape Cod and the pride that comes with wearing red. This book showcases the very essence of what it means to be from Barnstable.

As the last class in Barnstable Middle School before the name was changed to Barnstable Intermediate School, we moved next door for our eighth grade year, making us the first eighth grade class in Barnstable High School. Together, we have experienced many firsts. We had the privilege of knowing both Pats-Pat Graves and Pat Clark-as principals at BHS. We were also the first senior class to have Scott Thomas as our Athletic Director. Grass stains became a thing of the past when we were able to experience the first year of the turf together, where we enjoyed countless sporting events. Although they didn't make the trip back to Gillette, no one will forget how successful the Red Raider football team was after winning the OCL Championship three years in a row. Nor will we forget when the chorus classes sang the National Anthem at the Providence Bruins Game each year. Also, we will never fail to remember the girls' volleyball team who has won their 4th consecutive state championship and their 16th state championship in total. The first annual Barnstable's Got Talent Show debuted during spirit week. Who knew BHS had so much talent?

What's happening in the world? The Red Sox won the World Series, going from zero to hero in one season. Miley Cyrus is off the charts, both musically and morally. A new dance move has become popular known as "twerking"...putting many people outside of their comfort zones. The government was on hold for fourteen days; Barack Obama was reelected in 2012 as the first African American president of The United States. It will be difficult to forget what happened on April 15, 2013 when tragedy struck and Boston showed its unity making all of us "Boston Strong."

The Class of 2014 would not be where it is today without the guidance of our fearless leaders, Mr. Jansen and Ms. Lucier. As we continue on, let us remember together our unconventional, yet memorable, five-year high school experience that will forever be etched in our hearts and minds.

Barnstable High School's second annual Family Fun Night before the Homecoming Football Game!

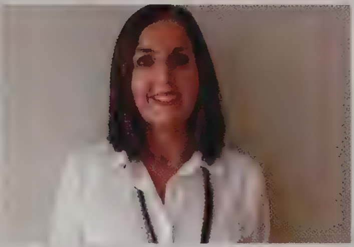
BHS RETIREES



Pat Dutra is a person who has left a lasting impression on me as well as Barnstable High School. Few people know how much she does to make this school run smoothly. She always makes time to see me even though she is constantly up to her eyeballs in work. I have never had a problem that she didn't have a solution for and she would listen to me when I complained about losing my keys, wallet, backpack, etc. I always look forward to visiting her around the holidays because she sneaks me food from the conference room. I am lucky to have known her for all of my five years in this building and I feel honored to be a part of the last class for whom she will be coordinating a graduation ceremony. –Kyle Santos

Since the day I entered Barnstable High School, my father told me, "You have to get involved in the art department; Mr. Lopes is a beyond superb teacher." After having Mr. Lopes as a teacher and mentor for two years, I now know that he is a professional at what he does. Mr. Lopes lives and breathes art; he teaches and creates art simultaneously, spreading his passion throughout Barnstable High School for over thirty years. While dishing out knowledge in Fine Arts III and IV, Mr. Lopes single-handedly runs the entire Art department—he has big shoes to fill. He is always thinking of new ways to create and display art and is always there to give out tips and constructive criticism when needed. Because of Mr. Lopes, I have matured as both an artist and a person through my two years in his class. Although I am sad to see such a talented person leave our school and Art department, I am grateful to be able to experience his class my last two years of high school and I am excited to see the art he creates for years to come. –Hannah Carlon

Mrs. Sarhanis cares deeply about each of her students. She cares that they understand the information she teaches, that they feel safe in her class, and that they have every opportunity to have unobstructed education. Mrs. Sarhanis taught multiple history courses over the year, but her past few years were dedicated to psychology. She knows the psychology book in and out - having many activities and exercises that further help her students understand the subject matter. This is proven every July when AP scores come out and the majority of her students get high scores on the AP Psychology test. Barnstable High School will lose a sense of compassion, dedication, and intellect with the retirement of the lovely Mrs. Sophia Sarhanis. - Emily McMahon

Mrs. Everson is a teacher that has touched the lives of so many students at Barnstable Middle School and Barnstable High School. Teaching us all in our middle school years to "Get on the bus!" and to always avoid being called Young Blood. The lessons we learned in her serene classroom are ones that all of her student will carry throughout life. Mrs. Everson embraced every challenge that came her way, as one of the teachers selected to be moved to the high school during the redistricting. She showed the utmost expertise as a teacher throughout her career, which was shown in her continuous recognition at graduation every year. Always encouraging students to read between the lines in her room full of every inspirational quote you could need. Barnstable School Systems will be losing a beloved member of their faculty. –Anna Hunt

Mr. Carl Lenhart is a true inspiration to his students; he displays an unconditional passion for teaching and most of all, learning. He has spent many years deeply studying the Greek and Latin languages and culture. Mr. Lenhart has radiated a positive outlook on life and education throughout our school since he started teaching at BHS. He aims to do more than just what meets the eye of a high school teacher. He has taught me a tremendous life lesson that I will always carry with me: to follow the path of who I am, and not rush into life. I know that Mr. Lenhart's insight on life and human-ness will continue to shed light on the world as he furthers his personal studies in the classics. He brought unity to Barnstable High School and will be remembered for his wittiness, intelligence, and unconditional love of people. –Rachael Crossley

Mrs. Graf, we both had the pleasure to have you as a teacher during our high school career. Your help was essential during our ELL years because without you our adjustment would have been so much more difficult. Your patience, kindness, and humor gave us the support that we needed to learn. We are thankful for all you did for us as we tried to adjust to a new country, language, and school. We will miss you! Obrigada por tudo!!!

Coach Turco- You are one of the most inspirational people we have ever met. Throughout our lives, you have taught us to never give up and that hard work pays off in the end. We applaud your hard work over the years and your dedication to your students. Even though we never had you as a teacher, you taught us life lessons that we will never forget throughout our life. Enjoy time off from school! –Holly and Stephanie Congratulations to all of our seniors!

Life is short, break the rules, forgive quickly, kiss slowly, love truly, laugh uncontrollably, and never regret anything that made you smile. Twenty years from now you will be more disappointed by the things you didn't do than by the ones you did. So throw off the bowlines. Sail away from the safe harbor. Catch the trade winds in your sails. Explore. Dream. Discover.

I asked you if you remembered growing up with all four of your siblings in the house.
You did not.
I asked you if you remembered going to my soccer games and gymnastics meets.
You did not.
I asked you if you remembered writing "Dereck Pa" on everything because you didn't know how to spell the rest of your name.
You did not.
I asked you if you remembered saying to mom, "It feels like Christmas every time Jillian comes home from school".
You did remember.
And now 10 years later, I will always remember my "BIG little" brother. The one who had to grow up fast because of the heartache and tribulations our family experienced. The one who worked so hard and put his heart into everything he did, even when he was told he wasn't good enough. The one who acted like my older brother when I was going through a tough time; you were there to listen and give advice. You are my inspiration and I am so proud of the man you have become today. Now, it is my turn to be your biggest fan and say to mom, "It feels like Christmas every time Dereck comes home from school".

I am going to miss you and your hugs, but I am so excited for your future and your future success.
Love, Jillian

Since 1841

"Who is my man?" is what I would say, to bring out that huge smile almost every day.

From the boy you once were to the man you have become, there hasn't been a day, I wasn't proud to call you my son.

You grew up as an old soul, wise beyond your years, facing struggles and disappointments
without any fear.

Showing love and forgiveness when it wasn't deserved, you behaved with more class without saying a word.

When loss and tragedy brought us to a halt,
your love of your family grew deeper with support to a fault.

Through rejection you became determined,
while you took the higher road. Maturity, kindness, and loyalty were all that you showed.

No matter what direction you take. No matter what mountains you climb. Know that you are loved and it's your time to shine.

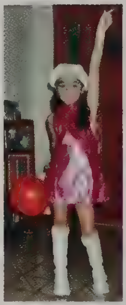
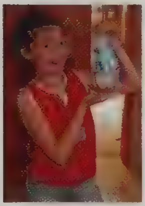
Congratulations! Good luck to all graduates, especially Molly Moore!

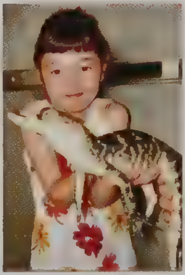
Alicia,
We didn't know how life would change
The day that you arrived.
We are truly blessed to have been around
To watch how you have thrived.

Your early days were filled with fun.
You changed and grew so quick.
You met good ol' Ernie when you were one.
Remember your hide and seek trick?



Our memories of your younger days:
Leading the line of the hat parade
Your Barbies, books, and all those plays!
Riding a two wheel and selling lemonade





We did our best to help you learn
The important lessons of life.
We celebrate your victories
And support you through your strife.

High school brought out the best in you.
You've led your classmates well:
Cross country, track, student council, too
Your memories are classic - swell!

As you say farewell to Barnstable High,
Knowing the halls will not be the same,
And start the next leg of your life,
We are here for you on Nobska Lane.
Love,
Mom and Dad

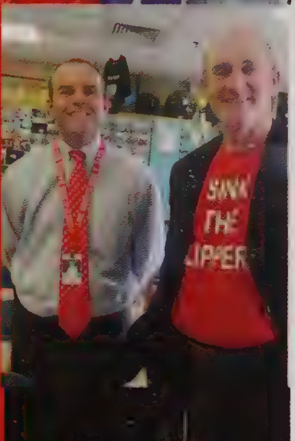
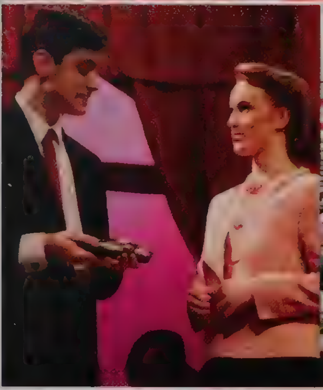
The Leadership Team at Barnstable High School is proud of this senior class. Every step of the way, you have lived by our core values of dignity and respect. Your academic achievement, college acceptances and workforce readiness rival that of any school in the Commonwealth. While pushing yourselves to be great, you always remembered your goodness. Our school, community and world are better for it. You have been role models for the future Red Raiders, which will forever be your greatest gift and legacy.





Our Apologies

The Barnacle Staff and Ms. Oberg would like to apologize for any misprint, misspelling, misplacement and/or any other mistake we have made in the production of the Barnacle 2014. We meant no harm and we hope you accept our deepest, most heartfelt apology for anything done inadevertantly.

Our History

The first Barnacle was published in 1934. The advisors over the past 25 years include: Mabel Bendicksen ('85/'86), Peg Regan ('87/'88) and Betty Smith ('89). Edward O'Toole ('90-'04) and ('07-'10) was the main brain behind many great books. He tried to incorporate interesting covers by shying away from the classic plain red cover. He tested out unique themes and covers like fairytales, James Bond, comic books and Jenga blocks. He also started to appeal to underclassmen buyers by including their pictures. During O'Toole's time the yearbook was made from September to January. Katie Carey ('05/'06) and Christy Salley ('06) ran the Barnacle as an afterschool club. Martha Swindler ('11-'13) was the first advisor to produce a 100% color book. She always kept the Barnacle tradition alive while adding new elements like Blast from the Past and creating Personals. This year was the first year for new advisor, Kaitlyn Oberg; she has brought enthusiasm and new traditions to the Barnacle. From the first annual Barnstable's Got Talent Show and Prize Pops as fundraiser to a new Senior TGA pictures page. There have been many different creative paths taken to form the Barnacle every year, but one thing they all have in common is that they will always continue to give that sense of Raider Pride to anyone who sees it.

Our Gratitude

There are so many people who help to make the Barnacle a reality. We must begin with the Administrative assistants: Mrs. Dutra, Mrs. MacFarlane and Mrs. Kipnes. We can not forget Mrs. Dumas, Mrs. Kelly, Mrs. Kingman, Mrs. Lopes, Mrs. Carvohlo, Mrs. Crosby, Mrs. Noreen Jones, Mrs. Beckwith, and Mrs. McDonald- you know the Barnacle could not have been made without your help and support. A special shout out to Mrs. Cugini and Ms. Netto's Insight Class for their numerous photo contributions to our book. Thank you to all the professional photographers for their patience and hard work with Senior Photos. We would also like to thank the Leadership for your support of the Barnacle Staff. To all the Families, businesses and BPS individuals who continuously help the production of the Barnacle. We could not do it without any of you.
